

Students To Stage Welcome Pep Rally

Coach 'Bear' Bryant Arrives Here Today

A mass meeting of the student body will be held in front of the Alumni gym at 12:45 this afternoon to greet the University's new football coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant, who will arrive here today from the University of Maryland.

"He left the University of Maryland under the protest of 2,000 students, and we want to have a strong welcome for him when he arrives at the University of Kentucky," according to Cornell Clarke, president of SuK, who stated that an extensive advertising campaign has been carried out on the radio and in the newspapers.

Students will not be excused from 1 o'clock classes, however, Clarke said.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively said that Bryant is driving to the University but will stop at Ashland before continuing here tomorrow.

Sororities, fraternities, and other student organizations are asked to have placards welcoming the new coach.

Bryant is a graduate of the University of Alabama, receiving letters in Varsity football in 1933, 1934 and 1935. He was All-Southeastern Conference for two years, played in the North-South game two years, and played in the Rose Bowl in 1934 for 58 minutes. Immediately after graduation he became assistant coach at the University of Alabama for four years and in 1940 he was appointed line coach at Vanderbilt. He entered the service in 1942 and served 42 months in the Navy, 16 in the European theater. He was appointed coach of the North Carolina Pre-Flight School and in practice games beat Duke twice, 12-0 and 35-13, and defeated North Carolina twice, but the team was disbanded before they played a regulation game. He held the rank of lieutenant commander when discharged.

He reported as head coach at the University of Maryland September 19, 1945. During the two previous years Maryland had won only one game, whereas his team won six, lost two and tied one game during the season.

His three assistants are Carney Laslie, Frank Moseley and Kenneth Whitlow. Moseley is not new at the University as he came to Kentucky in the fall of 1934 where he was assistant coach in football and baseball coach until March 1942, when he entered the Navy. He is 34, was quarterback on the Alabama team for three years and All-Southeastern in 1933. He reported at the University of Maryland in October, 1945 as assistant under Bryant.

Laslie attended the University of Alabama and was on the football team in 1930, 1931 and 1932. He was assistant coach at Alabama and at V.M.I. before entering the Navy in 1942. He served 18 months and was assistant to Bryant after his discharge.

Whitlow, 29, is the youngest of the group. He played on the Rice Institute team in 1938, 1939 and 1940, and was All-American center in 1940. He entered the Navy in 1941 and after 29 months service was discharged to take up coaching duties at Maryland as Bryant's assistant.

Dr. Donovan concluded by announcing that the financial campaign is a success as over $60,000 has been raised for the Athletic Association.

We're Very Proud

Yes, the University of Kentucky is proud, not only of our new coaching staff, but of our radio station, WBKY, and our paper, The Kentucky Kernel. We're proud of them for their splendid coverage of the announcement Monday night of the new head coach.

WBKY claims an exclusive scoop on the nation on the story when they interrupted their broadcast at 7:17:15, and O. C. Halyard, Jr., of the station's sports staff, flashed the news over frequency modulation. The name of Paul "Bear" Bryant was released to WBKY listeners less than ten minutes after Dr. Donovan made the name known, and while he was still talking to the press conference about the new coach.

Later, at 7:45 p.m. still before other stations in this vicinity had carried the news, they gave a five-minute report on the coach, his biography and record.

The Kernel had a staff standing by along with men in the print shop and started working on an extra as soon as the news was released. The conference broke up about 7:30 p.m. and by 9:30 p.m. they had the presses rolling with complete coverage of the news about the new coach along with the results of the Wildcat game with Xavier.

Immediately the staff hopped into cars with the papers, and had them delivered to all the dormitories, fraternity houses, sorority houses, and Rose Street before any other paper in the vicinity had an issue on the street. In fact the staff delivered copies of The Kernel to local newspapers, as a joke, some 45 minutes before the down-town papers went to press.

University Accepts City Radio Towers

Elmer G. Sulzer, director of public relations of the University of Kentucky, last week notified city officials that the University has accepted for its own use the two radio towers which are now part of the police department radio system.

The towers will be removed at the expense of the University when the present police radio system is replaced by new FM radio equipment.

One of the towers will be used in connection with the University's FM station, WBKY, Mr. Sulzer said. It will be located at a place designated by President H. L. Donovan and will replace the present antenna system atop McVey hall.

Because FM radio reception is dependent upon height of antenna, the tower will insure coverage of a wider territory, Mr. Sulzer said.

UK Women Voters Organize League

Educating University women to current state, national and international political issues is the aim of the just-organized UK League of Women Voters which meets at 4 p.m. Monday in the music room of the Union building.

Kernel Cubs Meet Monday

All Kernel reporters and students interested in becoming reporters will meet in the newsroom at 1 p.m. Monday. If classes interfere with the meeting, be sure to come to the office as early as possible on Monday afternoon for an assignment since all stories must be turned in by Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Benfield Will Speak At Convo

Theologist Opens Winter Quarter Talk Series

Dr. William A. Benfield, vice-president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary, Louisville, will be the speaker at the first convocation of the winter quarter at 10 a.m. Tuesday, January 22. Dean Leo Chamberlain announced. The subject of Dr. Benfield's address will be "You and the Future." All third hour classes will be dismissed for the convocation.

The program is part of the University's Religious Emphasis week, sponsored by the YMCA cabinet. Dr. Benfield will be introduced by Edward Barry, Arts and sciences senior and president of the University YMCA. The invocation and benediction will be given by Howard Stephenson, Arts and Sciences sophomore.

Dr. Benfield is a graduate of Davidson college and of the Presbyterian Seminary at Louisville. The work for his doctorate was done at the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, and the University of Chicago. He was professor of Hebrew and Old Testament at the Presbyterian seminary for four years. He is now vice-president and professor of practical theology.

Rules For Women Without Standing

The following rules governing girls who did not make a standing last quarter have been passed by the House Presidents' council of the women's residence halls:

Freshmen will have no nights out during the week; sophomores, one night per week; juniors, two nights per week until 10:30; seniors, three nights per week until 10:30.

Under the old ruling, freshmen received no nights out each week; sophomores, two nights until 10:00; juniors, two nights until 10:30; seniors, three nights until 10:30.

Phi Beta To Hear Reverend Shelton

Rev. Gentry Shelton, assistant pastor of Central Christian church, will speak at a meeting of Phi Beta to be held at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Carnegie Music room of the Union building.

Induction of patrons will be held immediately following the meeting. Patrons to be inducted include Miss Ira Penniston, Mr. Ford Montgomery, and Mr. Frank J. Prindle.

Want It Published?

All campus students and faculty organizations wishing to have stories printed in The Kernel should observe the following rules:

(1) Stories should not be given to Kernel staff members on the campus, but should always be given to Kernel reporters.

(2) If the story is brought to The Kernel newsroom, it should arrive not later than 5 p.m. Tuesday.

(3) News may be 'phoned in any Monday or Tuesday afternoon after 1 p.m.

Stories arriving later than the set dates are not guaranteed space in The Kernel.

UK Religious Emphasis Week Begins Sunday

Interfaith Group, YMCA
Sponsor Worship Week

By Elizabeth Ann Bicknell

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Inter-Faith Council, will be recognized on the University campus January 20-27, with daily lectures and discussions concerning the theme of the week: "Religion—Its Meaning for You." A number of organizations will participate, including the Veterans club, Philosophy club, home economics, Phi Beta, Pitkin club, Y.W.C.A., Y.M.C.A., and Wesley Foundation.

General arrangements for the program are in charge of Helen Hutchcraft, chairman; Jo Ann Scott, Mary McMaster, Ed Barry, Imogene Combs, Mildred Moore, Miss Dorothy Collins and Bart N. Peak.

Initial Event

The initial event will be an All-Youth Interdenominational meeting, 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 20 at the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church, with Dr. Thomas C. Barr, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian church, Nashville, as guest speaker.

On Monday, Jan. 21, there will be a dinner for all out-of-town speakers, discussion leaders and student workers in room 204 of the Union building.

Convocation will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22 in Memorial hall. Dr. W. A. Benfield, of the Presbyterian Seminary, Louisville, will speak on "You and the Future." Also scheduled for Tuesday is a joint meeting of the Freshman club and upper class members of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. at the Union building, led by the Rev. John E. McCaw.

Faculty Tea

On Wednesday, Jan. 23, a tea for members of the University faculty to meet the guest speakers has been arranged for 4 p.m. in the Music room of the Union building. That evening all dormitories, sororities and fraternity houses will entertain dinner guests, following which the groups will discuss the theme of the week: "Religion—Its Meaning for You."

The Rev. Norvell E. Wleker will conduct a meeting of the Koffee Klub at 4 o'clock on Thursday.

The week's activities will close Sunday, Jan. 27, with "Go-To-Church Sunday," each individual attending the church of his own choice.

Exhibits on Religious Emphasis Week and other information on the program and aims of this movement are on display and are available at the University library.

22 Prefabs Are Ready For Tenants

46 Other Units Expected To Be Available Soon

Twenty-two of the prefabricated temporary dwelling units in Cooper Village on the Experiment Station farm are ready for occupancy today and tomorrow. University officials announced. Another 46 of the units should be completed soon.

Because of the severe shortage of houses facing student ex-servicemen and their families, houses will be made available in lots of ten as soon as they can be completed. T. T. Jones, dean of men, said today.

New Units Obtained

Approximately 325 veterans attending the University asked for houses before it became necessary to halt applications. Dean Jones said. If the University succeeds in obtaining an additional 100 structures, Dean Jones said that applications would be taken again beginning March 25. These new units would take care of two families, making a total of 200 apartments available for married ex-servicemen.

Apartments Furnished

The apartments will be furnished with electric stove, coal heating stove, icebox, showerbath and other necessary furniture.

The 68 houses, of which the 22 are a part, start near Rose street. The other 132 dwellings approach Woodland avenue. Half of the 220 houses contain one bedroom; the other 100 are furnished with two bedrooms for veterans with children.

SUB Appoints New Committees

The Union Board met Monday Jan. 14, to appoint new committees and to discuss social activities for the coming year.

Resignations were accepted from Reginald Bowen, chairman of the Terminate committee, and Nancy O'Rear, chairman of the Activity committee.

It was decided that the Terminate and the War Effort committees were to be merged and placed under the direction of Nancy Taylor.

Emily Jones, the president of the Student Union Board, was placed in charge of the Activity committee.

The Dance committee, headed by Jack Banahan, has made plans for a Valentine dance to be held Feb. 9.

Canterbury Club Holds Dinner Meeting

A dinner was given by the Canterbury club last Monday evening at the parish house of Christ church.

Robert Stocker, president of the Canterbury club of the University of Louisville, spoke to the group on "Meaning of Canterbury."

The next meeting of the organization will be held at noon next Thursday in the Colonial Bowling Lanes. A luncheon will be served.

Covington On Staff Of Law Journal

The faculty of the College of Law announces the appointment of John Coleman Covington to the staff of the Kentucky Law Journal.

The faculty also announces the appointment of Doyle Barnett Inman and Arnett Mann as apprentice members of the staff of the Kentucky Law Journal.

Yearbook Queen Selection To Highlight Kentuckian Ball In Union Tomorrow Night

Veterans' Club Sponsors First Winter Formal

A coed will be crowned University Beauty Queen for 1946 and presented with a bouquet of red roses tomorrow night at 10:30 p.m. as the high-point of the Veterans club's Kentuckian dance beginning at 9 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Five of the six finalists, chosen in December as queen candidates, will be named attendants and presented with roses after being escorted to the throne at the north end of the ballroom by Veterans' club members. Col. G. T. Mackenzie, head of the University military department, will make the announcements and presentations.

Six Contestants

The six finalists, selected from a field of 35 contestants last quarter include: Sally Branch and Sylvia Mayer, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ruth Dameron, Delta Zeta; Joan Ruby, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Marian Slater, Alpha Delta Pi; and Nancy Catherine Taylor, Alpha Gamma Delta.

The dance will be semi-formal, cabaret style. Thirty tables, each seating ten guests, will be arranged around the ballroom. All table reservations have been sold, according to Joe Beard, ticket chairman; but general admission tickets selling at $1.50 may be bought today at a booth in the Union great hall.

Bob Bleidt, Navy veteran, will furnish music for the dance. His orchestra, the Blue and Gold, features vocalist Jean LeCompte and Bill Peavyhouse at trombone. A soft-drink concession will be operated by veterans.

Ceremony 31 Years Old

According to Byron Reed, Jr., publicity chairman for the dance, the queen-crowning ceremony was initiated 31 years ago at the University.

Chairmen who arranged the dance after consulting Kentuckian staff editor Mary Lillian Davis and business manager Jean Shirley Crabbe, are: general chairmen, Bill Karaker and Freddie Kastner; tickets, Joe Beard; decorations, Jack May, and publicity, Byron Reed, Jr. and Henry Ford.

Advanced ROTC Signs Forty-Four

Forty-four men have signed up for the advanced ROTC infantry courses and seven have signed up for the advanced signal corps work being offered this quarter for veterans of World War II. These men will take physical examinations Jan. 23.

Four Army officers have reported to the University to instruct in ROTC courses. They are: First Lt. Joseph P. Rose, Capt. Edward Gedrich, Capt. Alvin Von Halle, and Capt. Robert R. Ellison.

Lieutenant Rose is replacing Capt. Robert R. Duggan, who will receive his discharge from the Army at the end of this month.

All new officers are combat veterans, having served either in the European or Far Eastern theaters of operations.

Delegate To Speak On 'United Nations'

Mrs. William Sporborg, representing the National Confederation of Women's clubs, will be presented on January 22, under the auspices of the Koffee Klub. Her topic, "United Nations General assembly in Action," will deal with the present meeting of this assembly which is being held in London.

As a delegate to the San Francisco Conference, Mrs. Sporborg worked with all the women delegates.

The Koffee Klub invites everyone to attend the lecture which will be held in the Union building at 4 p.m. Jan. 22.

Make Application

Seniors who entered the University the winter quarter and who expect to complete their requirements for graduation at the close of the winter, spring or summer quarters, and who have not at a previous time made application for degrees, are requested to do so on Monday, Jan. 21. This applies also to graduate students who expect to complete their requirements for graduate degrees. All applications should be filed in Room 16 of the Administration building.

As the commencement lists are made from these cards, it is very important to file an application at this time.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree will be charged a graduation fee of $9.00. This will cover the rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, the Kentuckian, and senior dues. Candidates for advanced degrees will be charged a fee of $15.00, which will cover the above with the exception of the Kentuckian and in addition the cost of the hood to be presented the candidates. Graduation fees are payable not later than the fourth day preceding the commencement.

Hanging Of The Greens

DECEMBER, 1942: Traditional hanging of the greens took place in the Union building. Runners were squelched to the fact that the University would be operated for military students only. A formal dance ended the pre-holiday whirl at the University. Dr. Vandenberg left the University for a wartime position with the state department. Patricia Snider was reappointed Kernel editor.

Adolph Rupp was "Rupp and Ready," according to the heading of an article in Esquire magazine concerning the University's basketball coach. A monthly campus news resume was being prepared for the University alumni and former students then in the armed forces.

SGA proposed a poll among students to determine their opinion of the Union Commons. Men in the service were offered University extension courses. (To be continued next week.)

Catching Up With The Campus

By Jim Wood

This is the second in a series of articles to acquaint ex-servicemen with happenings on the University of Kentucky campus during the war period.

November, 1942: Guignol's "Claudia" prepared to tour the Army camps in Kentucky. Dr. Henry Beaumont of the psychology department was promoted from captain to major in the Army. He was stationed in Washington, D. C. The Tri-Delta entertained the Sigma Chi with a Halloween party. The book store coke machine went haywire and coughed up several cokes for a nickel. The 'Cats beat George Washington University. Thanksgiving holiday was cut to one day to meet government travel restrictions. One hundred and fifty-two students made 20 standings or over during the second semester of 1941-42. Jim Caldwell, former Kernel editor, was an apprentice seaman at Great Lakes. The 'Cats went to tangle with Georgia Tech. Mary Louise McKenna Knapp, former University student, presented a musical program in Memorial hall. Professor Branson talked on volcanoes, one of a series of University lectures.

Pershing Rifles Marched. Pershing Rifles marched in the Armistice Day parade. "Claudia" was described as a pretty good play. Twenty students were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The University war chest drive passed its quota by $200. A Pershing Rifles sponsor was to be presented at a ball.

Professor Lewis Horton, of Morehead State Teachers college, replaced Donald W. Alton, who resigned in the music department to take a position at Mary Baldwin college. The first University dance for soldiers stationed in Lexington was given. The Kernel editor answered complaints of several Lexingtonians who accused University girls of snubbing soldiers stationed in Lexington. Several fraternities entertained with buffet suppers following the Kentucky-West Virginia game. Carolyn Marsteller became engaged to Dr. John B. Floyd of Louisville. West Virginia mashed Kentucky. Ted Weems was engaged to play for a Christmas dance. Several service men selected the Kyian queen. SGA investigated the Union Commons, stating that football players were shown favoritism in food at meals. Jim Crowley and Betty Proctor were to be crowned queen of the Ag fall festival. The band left for the Tennessee game which was played in Nashville. The SGA constitution was revised to eliminate rules which conflicted with faculty rules. Betty Jane Pugh, Kernel news editor, wrote a feature explaining that UK women had more "courage, bravo" than men. Vols beat the 'Cats, as usual. UK graduate, David R. Berry was decorated by the Navy. Servicemen are not wolfish, said University coeds.

By Lucy Thomas

QUESTION: WHAT QUESTION WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE ASKED IN "SO THEY SAY?"

Betty Brady, A&S, sophomore: Where did all these "Joos" come from on the campus?

Franklin P. Cole, Engineering, sophomore: When are the sweaters going to be resumed in the Bluegrass room, as before the war? With a band or juke box?

Flaine Ashley, A&S, freshman: What's in a rimbarr fluz?

Edyth Rott, A&S, junior: Are you in favor of having a course in astronomy, spring quarter, with a dark, tall, handsome professor???

I really mean it!

Burt Franklin, A&S, junior: Why don't Stags break more often at the dances?

Shirley Meister, A&S, senior: When are the students at UK going to get to see a Notre Dame game?

Mary Bennett LaMaster, A&S, junior: How can we take care of the cafeteria line?

Anonymous, Home Ec, senior: Which vets are married?

Marie Thompson, A&S, senior: How would the students like a course in the art of making love.

Hazel Kennedy, A&S, junior: What's the big attraction at Rose Street?

John Violette, A&S, junior: What don't you want to be, when and if you get out of college, and why?

Myrene Stepp, A&S, junior: Why don't the dorms have more social activities—in other words, how can we meet the new vets?

Gwen Petrey, A&S, senior: Why isn't there some place close to the campus where students can dance?

Tom Harris, A&S, freshman: Why can't the students get tickets for the Notre Dame game?

Betty Tevis, A&S, senior: Do you think that the Panhellenic system of rushing is fair?

Students Will Be Students

Life, Liberty, and Pursuit

By Adele Denman

LIFE:

He looks like a movie star, he is—! Well kiddies, to make a long football bedtime story short, we have a new football coach! When The Kernel got out an extra, the headlines were bigger than those used to announce the ending of the war. Off-hand I would say that we are excited. But the most interesting thing I read in the extra was the statement that the UK radio station, WBKY, scooped the world on the announcement of the coach. Staff members on the New York Times and Columbia, and ABC must have cried for hours, and in southwest India many a man leaped from his bed of nails with the excitement of finding out about the new coach. 'Twas truly exciting.

All of the freshmen who have read "Oh Pioneers" are familiar with the symbolism of the butterflies, but for you other readers here's the dope. The lovers proceed to kill each other or something to that effect, and then two butterflies (obviously representing the souls of said lovers) fly over a field somewhere. On a test the question came up about the butterflies. Explain the symbolism. And a disconcerting stage whisper was heard, "If somebody had used DDT on the darn moths, we wouldn't have to go through all this."

Some of the journalism students who are taking small swims in the turbulent streams of law, have discovered that any man condemned to die may have three chosen guests at his execution. That's cozy, thought one coed, just enough for a couple of hands of bridge.

Last week during the excitement of the fire alarm (fake) in Boyd hall, one coed dashed through imaginary smoke and flames to her room where she rescued her most cherished and esteemed possession—her nylon hose. In her haste she left the room without even a thought of waking her roommate.

LIBERTY:

Realizing the difficulty with which the English department dreams up subjects for freshman themes, I have gathered a few interesting thoughts (original with students themselves), for the professors to use when they prepare more titles for freshman literary masterpieces. By the way, why does it seem imperative that most of the subjects be: My Trip to the Country, What I think of the University, My Grandmother, or Past and Present? Here are the thoughts:

And Now—

• Hoot Combs would like to make a public statement to the effect that he does not have 150 tickets to the Notre Dame game, at $20 each or at any price, never did have, and doesn't expect to have. In fact he'd like to buy one—"cheap"—if anyone has one to sell.

• speaking of $20, there's a coed who has kept some books out of the public library so long she owes the library that much. Now she's afraid to take the books back.

• there are table-sitters in the Grill, who finish eating and then just talk and smoke and talk, all through the noon hour, while others must eat lunch standing up to get to 1 o'clock classes. It would ease the congestion and certainly be more considerate if students would finish eating and vacate the tables as soon as possible.

• we have a new coach and an athletic organization that should produce good football teams. But if next year, or the next, the team still loses, let's not blame Mr. Bryant. Enthusiasm and optimism are high now, but if things should go wrong, the biggest boasters now will be the first to criticize the coach. University students should not be guilty of such injustice.

Words I View

By Dora Lee Robertson

New Fraternity Policy:
Excerpt from an Editorial
At West Virginia U.

With an eye to the postwar future the National Interfraternity Conference, representing sixty national fraternities, has released a three-fold program to rehabilitate Greek-letter organizations which suffered during the war.

Its postwar plan calls for the effective functioning of fraternity chapters in campus and community life, serving substantially the war veteran in school and, in the process, establishing the chapters in a new position of campus and general esteem.

The conference's chief concern, however, is with the elimination of "the old collegiate snobbery" by broadening fraternity membership. Verling C. Enteman, conference chairman, stated. By this act, returning war veterans, as well as students not in the service, will find fraternities a "true manifestation of the democracy for which the war was waged."

"To best serve the needs of the colleges and universities and their entire student bodies"—that is Mr. Enteman's desire for the future local and national fraternities.

The fraternities have been hit hard by World War II, and face difficult times. This program, advocated by Mr. Enteman and the Interfraternity Conference, however, is a good sign that Greek-letter organizations are wide awake to their responsibilities. Their sincere efforts to adjust themselves to the postwar campus life and its problems will go a long way to establish their future success.

It's the Law:

Speaking of rules and regulations: Two freshmen women at Michigan State College recently approached their housemother with a look of hopeful questioning, and asked if they might take a bath. Very baffled by this request (naturally) she inquired why they should ask such an unusual thing. The girls answered that the handbook stated that there could be no tubbing without the permission of the housemother. It's the law, believe it or not.

Male:

The south wing of Woman's Hall at West Virginia U. had a scare the other evening when a young man was freely roaming through the halls. After he left, the doors were checked to see how he could have gotten in, and those who hadn't seen him wanted to know all about it. One of them asked how old he was and received the reply, "Oh, ten or twelve." From some of the exclamations one would have thought the girls were disappointed.

Reading in Bed:

Reading in bed is no longer considered a hazard to one's eyes, it is stated in Pathfinder magazine. Dr. H. H. Lynn, lighting professor of Columbia University, says that if the lighting is right, eyestrain is no greater when lying down than when sitting in a chair. Nor does it make any difference whether light comes over the left shoulder or the right.

Snippers:

We have heard of "snipe hunts" in the woods or almost any place, but we never heard of having one in the dorm. Leave it to the women of Woman's Hall at West Virginia U. They think of everything. Recently, in one of the bull sessions the girls were talking about "snipe hunting" and one innocent young thing asked what it was. Her mischievous friends couldn't resist the temptation so they decided to go hunting right then. The girl didn't ask what snipes were, so no explanation was necessary. They led her, with a box to catch them in, up to the third floor stair landing and went off to chase the snipes down to her. She alertly watched for about fifteen minutes and then caught on to the joke.

Pearce Pulled No Punches

By Jim Wood

Back in the dear dead days when a spade was a spade and some Kernel writers called it a steamshovel, a columnist by the name of John Ed Pearce, who was recently made editor of the Somerset Journal, wrote for The Kernel.

Returning veterans and students who were on the campus before the war may cringe and others may indulge in a nostalgic laugh at the mention of John Ed and his "Pick-Up" in The Kernel, or "Sour Mash," student magazine, which he edited in 1939 through 1941.

For the first three months of 1939 John Ed intermittently wrote a column for The Kernel called the "Pick-Up," which, though it didn't cause any grey hairs, it did cause some to discolor. Said column brought letters to the editor (and John Ed) threatening all sorts of retaliations if the columnist didn't retract a statement from a former column.

Said Pearce in his first "Pick-Up" concerning editorial policy of the column:

"... All suggestions as to how this column should be written, or what it should contain, will be studiously ignored."

John Ed was a master at ignoring that which he decided was worthy of his 14-carat ignoring.

News seemed to come fast in the days of 3,500 students and Grade-A fisticas came faster.

Reported the "Pick-Up" concerning a brawl in a local night club: "Characters!" (All names have been changed by this writer. The subjects may be married now.)

"Scene:" (The establishment is out of business, so it doesn't matter.)

A high school pin means a lot to Jean Lindow, especially when it is from Mel Connel.

If Ann Marcum gets any more roses, she will have to start a florist shop.

Numerous "steadies" on the campus are: George Antole and Marjorie Funkhouser; Flossie Bell and an AST man; Audrey Corder and Sherman Le Grand; Jean Allen and Jimmy Jenkins; etc.

(This gossip is written in response to the letter in "Cuss and Discuss" which appeared in last week's paper. —Columnist's note.)

It's ethical enough to begin with The Kernel, the Kentuckian, and all extra work in the Department of Journalism. The rapid growth in enrollment and interest in the journalism department fully justifies giving it the limelight.

Pencil pushers should know that The Kernel is a weekly publication supervised by the Board of Student Publications. The editor, managing editor, news editor, and business manager are selected every year and receive a salary for taking the full responsibility of editing and printing the paper. Mildred Long, Mary Jane Dorsey, Betty Tevis, and Peggy Watkins hold these offices in the order previously named. They organize the staff and determine the editorial policy of the paper, makeup and in general, work like beavers. By the way, the $80,000 Kernel plant is student owned.

"Action: Harry is dancing with Louise. Bad John breaks in on him with irritating regularity, not for himself, but so his friend may break. Harry gets viddy mad; red in puss, plenty sore. When the breaking does not cease, Harry ups to John, and Bad John ups to him. "That is all."

Kernel Takes Ride

Though some say that John Ed's column was not accurate, most old students believe it hit the nail on the head most of the time.

Kernel staffers came in for their share of "muscle critique" for good writeups. "... he knows better than to pan her."

Commented John Ed about Don Irvine, then a student and formerly a member of the English department:

"Don Irvine, a Ridgeway Road rounder, got a set-back the other night when he called Martha Hume on the phone for a date. Miss Hume, but lately an ardent Irvineite, turned the tables and sent out a report of no soap."

The next week Mr. Irvine demanded a verbal recount.

...and a BMOC

... and about one of the fraternity BMOC's of the period: "... Williams, by the way, was absent from the Junior Prom because his tails were in hock."

When Pearce became editor of the Wildcat, student humor magazine of constructive and non-constructive criticism, the publication changed drastically.

In one instance each fraternity was rated in terms such as the following:

Example: "What they date: country girls; Condition of house: farm house; What they do: hold hands; What they drink: hog wash; What they need: a laxative; What they look like: morons; Where they go: to the outhouse."

John Ed even took the faculty to task, and it's said that John Ed received the vice-versa treatment by the same.

... and the Faculty

"Horse of a Different Collar ... Or ... Your Grades, Professor," was a regular feature of The Wildcat which purported to grade University professors on their various abilities. This the Wildcat proceeded to do with no holds barred.

The following was written about one professor:

"... 'I don't think ... is trying to teach. ... is trying to flunk the whole class. ... knows ... (the subject) all the way back, but when ... starts teaching, (the subject) becomes so dead it's rigid. Makes tough assignments, grades hard. Class attitude none too soft and many students fail. Avoid this one if you have ... as a prerequisite. There are easier and better ways of getting it."

Some Good, Some Bad

Nor were all the comments on professors derogatory. They were described as prejudiced, high school terror, a wizard, knows subject, likeable fellow, dry, too unfriendly, pretty dull (course).

The Wildcat folded about as often as a sheet on a well-used bed and was printed when the financial means were available, which was enough to get several issues out each year.

Pearce left the University during the war, and was recently discharged from the navy as a lieutenant. He became editor of the Somerset Journal in December.

All Right, So You Can Write

By Martha Yates

Now that the gruelling first weeks of the quarter are past, there's a chance for new students to start looking around to see what extra activities on the campus they would like to participate in. Continuing the series of articles on campus organizations, this week journalism is the interest.

It's ethical enough to begin with The Kernel, the Kentuckian, and all extra work in the Department of Journalism. The rapid growth in enrollment and interest in the journalism department fully justifies giving it the limelight.

Pencil pushers should know that The Kernel is a weekly publication supervised by the Board of Student Publications. The editor, managing editor, news editor, and business manager are selected every year and receive a salary for taking the full responsibility of editing and printing the paper. Mildred Long, Mary Jane Dorsey, Betty Tevis, and Peggy Watkins hold these offices in the order previously named. They organize the staff and determine the editorial policy of the paper, makeup and in general, work like beavers. By the way, the $80,000 Kernel plant is student owned.

The Kentuckian office is just around the corner from the Kernel office in the sub-basement of McVey. Under the leadership of Mary Lillian Davis, Tommy Oish, and Jean Crabb, the annual is produced. Miss Davis has also revealed that the positions will be open on the Kentuckian to interested students.

If anyone is interested in creative writing, there's a chance for her in Chi Delta Phi, literary honorary for women. This organization is publishing a campus magazine, the first of its kind in years, and will welcome contributions.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity, is the professional organization which recognizes outstanding women maintaining a certain standing in the journalism department. Before the war Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity for men, was active. Perhaps, in the not too distant future, it and the Patterson Literary Society, which recognized creative writing among the men students, may again become active.

Everyone to whom writing is a hobby, ambition or business will find ample opportunity at the University for association with students who share his interests, and en-

HATFIELD-FORSTON

Mrs. Thomas Edmund Hatfield announces the marriage of her daughter, Helen Ebersmann, to Stanley Rodes Forston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll Forston Sr. of Lexington.

The bride attended the University.

'Small World, Isn't It?'

Clayton Cruise and Allan Cloyd

By Myrtle Weathers

At least two of the hundreds of discharged GI's on the campus this quarter have no adjustment problems whatever. For the last twenty-one years, come the Army or high water, Allan Cloyd and Clayton Cruise have been inseparable friends.

Both flight officers, they trained at the same fields, received identical battle awards, even had consecutive serial numbers. Discharged in October, they enrolled this quarter in the college course and boosted the strength of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity of which they were both members before they entered service.

Same Birthday

The similarities go even farther: Both Lexingtonians were born at the same hospital in 1924, within 90 minutes of each other, lived a few blocks apart, went to the same junior and senior high schools. Graduating from Henry Clay high school, they entered the University in 1943, they enlisted together on August 6 of that year.

Both earned flight officer bombardier-navigator commissions at Kirtland field, Albuquerque, N. M., Cloyd wearing wings only a minute and a half ahead of Cruise.

Together they were shipped to Naples in March, 1945. Based in Italy, they flew missions over Austria, Yugoslavia, the Po Valley and Brenner Pass. Cruise holds the European theater ribbon with three battle stars. Air Medal with one cluster and a group citation with one cluster. He flew 17 missions, Cloyd with identical ribbons and awards, flew 15 missions. Both were in the same bomber wing although they flew missions in different planes.

Based Together

But Cruise and Cloyd were based together, slept in the same barracks, ate at the same mess, almost a miracle in an Army that seems deliberately to separate men who enlist together. Each served 26 months, with four months overseas. They were released from Seymour-Johnson field, Goldsboro, N. C., on September 27.

The similarities continue in their interests, photography and athletics. But at physical appearance comes the sharp difference. Cruise, tall and dark, tops red-headed Cloyd by seven inches. Just for the record, Cruise has grey-green eyes and Cloyd's are blue.

Both are "unattached" and frequently double-date, admitting the need for social life in a college curriculum.

To Allan Cloyd and Clayton Cruise, as to hundreds of other just-discharged GI's, the University offers its heartiest "Welcome home!"

FROM THE GREEKS

By Janet Sulzer

NE O M P E T T O X Y Z

As the rush week fog lets up, the rapid re-activating of many pre-war fraternities may be more clearly perceived. Once again, the Delta Tau Deltas, Kappa Alphas, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Sigma Nus are on the campus. The Deltas and Sigma Nus have their own houses that are now leased out, but the KA's and Alpha Gamma Rho are in the familiar predicament of house hunters.

These four groups have wasted no time in getting started: the KA's entertaining with a dance in the Fireside room of the Phoenix hotel, Tuesday night; the Deltas entertaining with a party last Friday night; the Sigma Nus having a meeting in their own house Wednesday night; and the Alpha Gamma Rho electing the following officers: Irvin Overall, president; Cliff Ledford, vice-president; Matt Williams, secretary, and Harold Webb, treasurer.

Attention men: The following open houses will be held in your honor: From 4-6 Friday afternoon, the Chi Omegas will hold open house for all fraternity men on the campus. Saturday afternoon, the ADPI's, Alpha Gams, and Kappas will have open house for all men on the campus. The Alpha Gam and Kappa receptions will be from 3-6, the ADPI from 4-6.

All men on the campus are invited to the Kappa Alpha Theta open house from 4-6, Sunday afternoon. Mary Frances Meade is in charge of the arrangements. The Tri-Deltas entertained with a tea Thursday afternoon in honor of their new housemother, Mrs. Lois Mattison Cox. Guests were housemothers, head, residents, and friends. Miss Tina Holland made arrangements for the event.

The following SAE's have entered school this quarter after serving in the armed forces: Ned Brethitt, Ed Taylor, Buddy White, Allen Cloyd, Clayton Cruise, Howard Wilkerson, Bob Montgomery, Stewart Mahurin, Dick Young, Jim Masterson, Pete Triplet, Bob Perry, and Fred Wachs. Besides the preceding group of former UK Sigma Alpha Epsilons, Bob Turner of Emory University and Bob Babage of the University of Tennessee have entered UK this quarter following their discharges.

This will be a busy weekend for the Kappa Deltas as their sixty-third chapter is installed at Georgetown College. Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, the first and second degree pledgings, respectively, will be held. A reception will be held at the chapter house in Georgetown for distinguished guests Friday night. Guests of honor are Misses Minnie Mae Prescott, head of central office; Miss Aliene Smith, central office; and Mrs. Owen Lee, past president of national. The installation banquet will be held Saturday evening at the Lancaster hotel in Georgetown.

The members of Kappa Sigma are entertaining with a party tonight in honor of new pledges. Mack Prewitt will make the arrangements.

Miss Mary Lou Howard, Kappa Delta pledge, and Dick Youngman, Sigma Chi, were recently pledged.

Wednesday afternoon, the Sigma Chi gave a tea in honor of the Sigma Chi Mothers' club and the campus housemothers. John Allen was in charge of arrangements.

The week just ending has been to twelve Zeta Tau Alpha pledges "work week." These girls will soon be initiated and have been spending their last pledge days cleaning up the Zeta house. They will be guests at a slumber party tonight at the house.

Last Saturday night, the ADPI's had a slumber party for both active and pledges.

Big Blue Takes Spartans, Musketeers In Stride

By Don Towles

The University of Kentucky cage team won its 10th and 11th victories over Michigan State and Xavier University last week-end. The Cats overcame a jinx that had plagued them for years in beating Michigan State on its own floor. They rang up an 11-point margin over the Michigan boys, beating them, 55-44. The following Monday night the Ruppmen sneered at the Xavier opposition and walked away with a 62-36 victory.

Michigan State has now dropped six games to the Kentuckians while winning five times from the 'Cats. Last year the Wildcats defeated the Spartans on the home floor, 66-35, only to lose to them on the Michigan court, 66-50.

Ralph Beard, freshman flash from Male high school, scored 18 points as high point man for the night. Beard, losing his hitting power on the favored Michigan team, hit the basket several times and broke away to drive under the basket for a fast trip shot.

The Xavier boys had given up all hope of winning before the Kentucky team arrived, but Coach Rupp, still in doubt about the situation, said that anything could happen. The Kentucky boys hit the floor like a ball of fire and started the avalanche that swamped the Xavier quintet, 62-36. Wallace (Wah-Wah) Jones took the honors for the night by scoring 15 points. The "Harlan wonderman" hit his peak for the season so far by dropping the ball in the basket from all sides.

Kentucky had not played Xavier since 1942-43 when they beat them by scores of 43-38 and 48-36. The Wildcats will again meet the Xavier team in a contest here February 23, the last game of the regular schedule.

The victories over Michigan State and Xavier brought the Kentucky record to a near perfect record of 11 wins and 1 loss.

Students Protest

About 2,000 students of the University of Maryland started a strike and picketed class rooms Tuesday morning after they learned that their coach, Paul Bryant had been signed to a five-year contract by the University of Kentucky. Classes were suspended and meetings between the University's president, H. C. Byrd, and student leaders followed.

President Byrd, clad in pajamas and dressing robe, appeared before about 200 students shortly after midnight, when the news became known, and told them that he was as surprised as they to hear that Bryant had signed the Kentucky contract.

In the dining hall Tuesday morning, the students decided to hold their demonstrations. They scheduled a protest meeting for that afternoon to be held in the school gym.

It was rumored around the campus that Bryant was leaving because of disagreements between him and Byrd. Byrd was a football coach before he became president of the school. However, none of the student leaders accused the president of not being able to get along with Bryant. The students carried placards during their demonstrations and to an early morning bonfire and snake dance. The placards bore protest of the leaving of the coach, who had given Maryland their best football season in a number of years. Some read, "Down with Byrd. We Want Bryant." Others advertised student board petition blanks.

Prince George's county police were summoned to the campus after the strike began, but they said students were orderly and made no arrests.

Coach Bryant appeared before the mass meeting Tuesday afternoon and quieted the crowd with the remark, "The type of thing that has happened here is bad—it's bad for the school, for you, for athletics and for me. It's putting everyone in a bad light." Later he told newspapermen that, "spread of this strike psychology to classrooms is mighty dangerous."

The mass meeting scheduled as a protest against Bryant's departure, turned into a rousing farewell party for the coach.

He denied rumors of friction between he and the president, and asked the students to go back to

Introducin'

By Charles Taylor

Ralph Beard, diminutive guard who specializes in stealing the ball and confusing the opposition, hails from Louisville where he attended Male high school.

Ralph is one of the few who has gained the distinction of being a four-letter man from Male. He captained the basketball team in his senior year and also won all-state honors in leading his team into the coveted place as 1945 champs of Kentucky. Ralph also holds letters in football, track, and baseball.

In his senior year at Male he led the team in scoring by dropping in 509 points. In early games this year Ralph was slow in breaking into the scoring column but now has hit his stride and is third now in scoring, headed only by Jack Parkinson and Jack Tingle. In 12 games he has scored 110 points.

During the summer, Beard teamed with Wallace Jones, another Kentucky freshman, to lead an All-Kentucky team to victory over a group of Indiana All-Stars. The game was played at Indianapolis. Beard scored 14 points to gain high-scoring honors for the Kentuckians.

Ralph is a great "break-away" player, who is very adept at driving under the basket for criss. He is acclaimed by many coaches as the fastest man to perform on the hardwood and can keep this pace until the final horn. He can always be seen rubbing his burr head and chewing gum when things aren't going so well for his team.

He was voted the "player of the week" by the United Press when the Wildcats appeared in Madison Square Garden against St. Johns. He is a favorite with the Kentucky fans by his size, aggressiveness, ball handling and fight.

their classes. "I'm going to Kentucky of my own free will," he said. "I think it's a better job and a better future for me."

Byrd said that he could not offer Bryant a long-term contract at the University of Maryland because he could not commit the state beyond the annual budget period. Bryant had only a verbal agreement with the university.

President Byrd also said he did not plan any punishment for the students, about 50 per cent of whom did not attend classes. He also told news men he felt no animosity toward the students because of the placards.

Navy Calls Granitz

Hartford, better known as "Rusty" Granitz, one of Kentucky's passing, running, kicking quarter backs, received a long-distance call from his home in Pennsylvania Wednesday night telling him to report to Louisville immediately for the Navy. "Rusty," who has gained 17 pounds since football season closed, has been on 24-hour call since December 11, 1945, when he enlisted in the Navy for a two-year hitch.

Hal Phillips, Babe Ray, and Jim Williams, all backfield men on last year's squad, are in the Navy now. They left either just before the holidays or during them.

TIME OUT!

By O. C. Halyard, Jr.

This week's column is dedicated to the enthusiastic eleven who worked diligently Monday night to get out the Kernel extra and have the news of the new coach on the streets before any other paper in the vicinity.

Special thanks to the three men, Don Grote, Karl Davis, and Bill Kruse, in the print shop, who worked late to get the paper out. The staff members, who made up the rest of the crew, included Mary Jane Dorsey, Betty Tevis, Casey Coman, Martha Yates, Dick Lowe, Hugh Collett, and your humble reporter who seemed to be constantly in the way.

The news that Kentucky fans have been waiting to hear is out. Not only did we get the name of the new head football coach, but we got the names of four new coaches, who will be working at Kentucky. They are Paul Bryant and his three assistants Carney Laslie, Frank Moseley, and Kenneth Whitlow.

Almost simultaneously to Kentucky's announcement that they had signed Paul Bryant, Mississippi released the fact that they had signed Harold Drew, who had been one of the prospects for the Wildcat job. . . . At the present time this leaves only the University of Florida in the Southeastern Conference without a head mentor.

With over 3,500 student books and about 1,000 reserve seats sold for the Cats' home games, and with Alumni gym seating approximately 3,100, someone is certainly going to have to stand out in the cold. . . . There have been several suggestions offered to solve the problem, probably the best one and the one most likely to be used is to let only half of the student body in at a time to see the games. . . . Anyway something is definitely going to have to be done, since we can't get our new field house until 1948 at the earliest, and we'll probably have over 5,000 students here long before then. . . . Maybe that group of veterans who wanted to sleep in the gym were even smarter than people figured. At least, they would be assured of seats to the games—if they awakened early enough.

The sale of student tickets to the Notre Dame game has definitely become a black mark against an otherwise clean slate possessed by the ticket sales department. However, all is not lost. Those who do not have tickets undoubtedly will be able to buy a ticket from one of our fellow students who bought five or six—unless they succeed in getting their mothers and fathers, etc., into the game on student tickets. That is if you have enough of that green folding stuff and act quickly.

The Wildcat cage team added another feather to their cap last Saturday night when they became the first Kentucky team to defeat the Spartans on their home floor. . . . Ralph Beard who is headed toward an All-American berth—took top honors in the game with 18 points. . . . "Wah Wah" Jones, who saw only 15 minutes of action in Monday night's game against Xavier, rang up 15 points.

With the count now at 11 to 1, the Cats take to the road again this week-end to meet the Vols Saturday night and to tangle with Georgia Tech next Monday night. Both games are on foreign courts, and will definitely put some light on the Southeastern conference standing. Kentucky will be favored in both contests, but, Tennessee and Tech are strong contenders for top honors in the SEC. In three meetings last year with the Vols, Kentucky came out on top in two and dropped the other by one point. They won two out of two against Georgia Tech, but had to fight all the way. However, the man who picks 'em for us says Kentucky will skim by and add two more victories to their count. He was quick to add that he was afraid of the Tennessee game, and said, "Anything can happen."

Last week a couple of soldiers stopped in the office and wanted to know why The Kernel carried only sports news about Kentucky. Well, the best answer we can give to their inquiry is that The Kernel is the University of Kentucky's paper and not a commercial paper. However, if there is some particular school they would like to read about, and have time to stop by the office again, we will be glad to see if we can find papers from that school in our exchange library.

W. A. A. News

The state-wide "Basketball Play Day" that was announced in last week's Kernel will be held Friday and Saturday, February 15th and 16th. These colleges have been invited and are expected to participate: Centre, Union, Nazareth, Kentucky Wesleyan, Berea, Morehead, Georgetown, University of Louisville, Murray, Transylvania, Eastern, and Ursuline.

The intramurals between the different sororities and the W.A.A. will be held Friday, February 22. Both the Play-Day and the intramurals, will be round-robin.

Bowling, which has so far been held on Tuesday night from 7 to 9:00, will be changed to Monday night from 7 to 9.

Wildcats With 11 Victories Dream Of S.E.C. Crown

By "Scoop"

The University of Kentucky basketball team returned home Tuesday morning with two more victories to their credit, and got down to work that afternoon in preparation for the coming week-end. Victors over Michigan State last Saturday night by a 55-44 count, they easily overcame Xavier Monday night by scoring 31 points in each half while holding their opponents to a grand total of 36.

This week-end promises to be a tough one for the Cats, since they are on the road again and play Saturday night in Knoxville against their arch rival, Tennessee. After the game they travel to Atlanta to meet the Engineers from Georgia Tech.

Tennessee and Kentucky are top favorites among the pre-season pickers to cop the title in the Southeastern Conference. However, Georgia Tech has a strong aggregation this year and is not to be regarded as a snap team.

Last year Kentucky and Tennessee split in regular Southeastern Conference play, but Kentucky defeated the Vols in the play-off of the SEC, to make it two wins for Kentucky and one for Tennessee. It should also be remembered that Tennessee won over Temple by 43-36, and the Wildcats lost to Temple by 53-45. This gives the boys with the odds-pod something to worry about as Tennessee figures to be 15 points better by comparative scores. Another factor in the Vols' favor is that the game is being

Tennis Begins Soon If Weather Permits

"As soon as weather permits it, the University tennis team will begin to play," Court Coach H. H. Downing announced yesterday. Downing added that this year's team will be made up of four veterans, Al Reynolds, Bill Fawn, Bill Sturgill and Tom Asbury.

After suffering through a manpower shortage, tennis like every other sport will be boosted this year by the upped U.S. enrollment. Candidates who have already expressed interest in the team include John Balzola, Tom McKinley, Waco Days, Bill Sullivan, Robert F. Harris, and Wing Campbell.

First game for the UK team will be against the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati on April 24. Michigan will play here April 27, and Notre Dame on May 11. Another game with Cincinnati and a contest with Berea have been planned but not scheduled. Downing says the team may make a jaunt south to tackle other schools later in the tennis season.

Coach Bryant stipulated that Kentucky must find him a place to live when he penned his name to the contract. Luckily, said Dr. Donovan, we found one.

Intramurals
By Jim Maynard
Intramurals are active again after a state of animated suspension of five years. Prior to the war Intramural sports were highly organized and presented keen opposition. Post-war Intramurals are aiming above the '41 mark.

Six fraternities and three Independent teams have signed up as competition for the basketball championship. Representing the Fraternities are Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Chi. Representing the Independents are the Veterans Club, Breckinridge hall, and an unknown team called the "Wildcat Manners." Fifteen teams are expected to enter before the deadline, which is 5 p.m. Friday, January 18.

Basketball will run for a week under the "round robin" system with elimination starting the second week. If the expected number of teams enter they will be divided into two leagues. This measure will eliminate any one team playing twice in one night, and reduce the amount of time required to complete the tournament.

Referees will be Charles Rose and Victor Varney. Rose is a veteran of World War II and a student in the College of Law. Varney, who is working on his master's in the College of Education, has done previous officiating. Officials will pick an All-Campus Intramural team from the various Fraternal and Independent groups, of which each has a storehouse of material.

At the close of intramurals in 1941, the K Club was the University champion in basketball with Sigma Nu taking second place.

Teams may now be registered for volleyball. Applications are to be made at the Intramural office of the men's gym. Entries are eligible for acceptance until February 8.

We take this opportunity to clarify a technicality which was brought to our attention. Any person who has earned a varsity letter in a certain sport cannot participate in intramurals of that particular sport. Basketball will start Monday, Jan. 21.
